STORY

Alma de Cantauri was born after three years of experience in the world of barrel-aged wines. As its name suggests, it embodies the dream and dedication of three generations in pursuit of the most exceptional and dazzling wines.

GRAPE VARIETY

90% Tempranillo, 10% Mazuelo, Graciano y Garnacho

WINE MAKING

Crafted from our oldest vineyards, over 65 years of age, with strictly limited yields. This wine is only produced in historic vintages, with numbered releases of no more than 1,500 bottles per vintage. Aged in 80% French oak and 20% American oak.

TASTING NOTES

On the nose; black fruit with raisins, spices and resinous notes of incense with cigar ash, dyes, leather and aromas of aging in the bottle, which give it great complexity.

On the palate; ripe, round and very profiled with fine tannins polished by time in the bottle. A classic preserved and aged Rioja wine.

*This is a wine that should be decanted due to its long aging period.
